ACADEMIC AND PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Shenzhen Luohu Dawang Village Migrant Worker Field Research Project

Jul 2025 – Jun 2026

Project Initiator and Leader & Student Researcher

- Conducted field research on migrant-family urban integration, children's education and the social value of migrant labor; surveyed 80+ migrant households and interviewed local community leaders about self-rated dilemmas.
- Analyzed socioeconomic challenges such as educational inequalities and occupational entrapment in a community with 65% floating population density.
- Compiled findings (bridging capital's significance in predicting workers' future space for development) into a 15-page report and proposed 3 actionable measures (community networking workshops and cross-industry job referral platforms) to the Social Worker Committee in order to help marginalized workers break occupational entrapment.

Beijing Qianqian Law Firm

Aug 2025

Legal Intern

- Aided to file 12 migrant women right cases of workplace harassment and domestic violence or divorcing, reviewing 50+ legal documents, organizing evidence and drafting mock complaints and evidence lists.
- Conducted specialized research on gender protection, produced case review records and helped with legal consulting, gaining first-hand exposure to gender-based violence and legal inequalities.
- Combined litigation practice with prior compliance experience, demonstrating an interdisciplinary approach to law, social justice and commercial governance.

Academic Research Project: Criminal Sentencing and Family Impact

May 2026 – Jul 2026

Sole Author and Student Researcher

- Sole authored a 3,000-word legal research paper on family-impact mitigation in criminal sentencing.
- Conducted comparative analysis across five jurisdictions and applied UNCRC/ECHR framework to evaluate child-protection rationales against penal proportionality.
- Identified a moral-hazard risk: lenient mitigation could incentivize strategic pregnancy and fabricate dependency, commodifying children as tools for sentence reduction.
- Proposed “Presumption of Instrumentality” framework with reversed burden of proof for post-charge circumstances.

China International Capital Corporation (CICC) Wealth Management

Aug 2026

Legal Intern

- Received Grand Prize (top award) at the CICC 2026 Summer Asset Allocation Debate Competition for Teenagers, outperforming peers through rigorous multi-asset strategy construction and structured argumentation.
- Completed an intensive 4-day Financial Quotient Summer Camp covering asset allocation theory, wealth management framework and investor education; passed all assessments.
- Analyzed financial product structure, investment compliance and investor suitability from a regulatory perspective, cultivating a law-oriented mindset that bridges commercial finance with legal risk control.

Strategic Operations Center Intern

- Assisted with private equity fund operation, including data compilation and ledger registration, gaining practical insight into PE/VC compliance and regulatory framework.
- Supported cross-departmental coordination, facilitated business documentation and conducted industry research for strategic workshops.
- Managed systematic document archiving and workflow organization, demonstrating operational rigor and strong communication skills.

Independent Academic Research Project: “The Objectivity of Mind”

May 2025 – Jul 2025

Sole Author and Student Researcher

- Evaluated social, embodied and extended mind theories, arguing that none of them possesses ontological objectivity.
- Applied multi-layered predictive framework to expose subjectivity in social cognition; employed sensorimotor contingency theory and parity principle to deconstruct embodied and extended mind claims.
- Devised 2500-word paper and received Global Commendation in the 2025 John Locke Essay Competition.
